The trial, &c. of Louis XVI. late King of France, and Marie Antoinette, his Queen. Embellished with copper-plate engravings King of France Louis XVI

"At six o'clock in the morning he took his leave of the queen and the royal family, and was with them for some time, the parting was affecting to the last degree; the distress of the Queen passed all description. He left the Temple agreeable to instructors from the provincial council, at eight o'clock, at which time the mournful procession set out from the Temple. The royal victim sat in the mayor's carriage with his confessor by his side praying very fervently, and two captains of the nationonal light horse on the front seat. The carriage was drawn by two black horses, preceeded by the Mayor, General Santerre, and other municipal officers. One squadron of horse, with trumpeters and kettle drums led this melancholy convoy, three heavy pieces of ordnance, with proper implements and canoneers, with lighted matches, went before the vehicle, which was escorted on both sides by a treble row of ."
